DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-7, 14, 15, and 18-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nusbaumer et al. (US Patent 5,944,069).

Nusbaumer et al. discloses the claimed fuel dispensing system. Nusbaumer et al. discloses a fuel dispensing system with

A system controller configured to produce an accounting of each fuel dispensing transaction associated with the dispensers and customers, each transaction having associated therewith an unique indicia (such as the control system operating the fuel dispensers with the associated accounting system which accounts for each transaction that has associated unique indicia such as pump id, vehicle id, user id, time, date, etc.);

" Art Unit: 3627

Fuel dispensers (such as dispensers used to fuel locomotives as discussed in column 6 lines 5+) in data transfer communication with the controller, configured to dispense fuel, not having a receipt printer (see figures 2, 4, and 5) and adapted to receive payment for a fueling transaction (payment information is entered when identification of the locomotive and personal id code is entered); and

A fuel dispensing transaction accounting delivery station in data transfer communication with the system controller, and located remotely from the dispensers which are configured to deliver a transaction accounting associated with the fueling transaction to the customer, based on the indicia (such as at the central data terminal the transaction data is used for accounting and provided based on customer indicia and an operator may provide any transaction in hardcopy format using a printer, see reference 150 in figure 1, and column 6 lines 35+).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nusbaumer et al.

* Art Unit: 3627

Nusbaumer et al. discloses the claimed device but is silent on the topics of biometric sensors. Examiner takes official notice that biometric sensors are notoriously old and well known in the art of security to prevent fraud by identifying users. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention for one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize biometrics in the system of Nusbaumer et al. to prevent fraudulent use of the system.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 13 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-7 and 13-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
